Vol. 1, No. 33

August 9, 1974

Upcoming:

On August 16 the Alumni will receive the Australian and French America's Cup challengers at a cocktail - buffet, at Ochre Court, beginning at 7 p. m.

Members of various Rhode Island yacht clubs are also expected. Tickets are $15.00.

A page announcing Salve Regina College's Fall semester schedule of courses is being prepared for the August 16 issue of the Newport Daily News.

This pull-out-and-save page is intended as a substitute for a printed class session booklet.

On Campus

The New England Liturgical Conference, in residence at Miley Hall, numbers 150 participants. A liturgical celebration and luncheon at Portsmouth Priory will close the conference on Sunday, August 11.

WADK

Robert McKenna (History and Politics) is discussing the political process of impeachment on August 9, at 1 o'clock.

Don Magee (History and Politics) is to appear on the Freddy Fernandez show on August 13, to consider some popular topics in economics.

Mr. Joseph Riess, Executive Director of Newport County Youth Consultation, Inc., will speak on August 19 of the Drug Abuse/Education conference opening at Salve Regina College on August 22.

Grant

Sister Mary Giles (Librarian) announces the reception of a $4,235 grant made to the Salve Regina College library, under the College Library Resources Program.

Extending from June 1975, the project envisioned is expected to help meet some of the demands of both the undergraduate core, and the new Masters program.

New Items

The new Ochre Court brochure is available for any guests touring Ochre Court. It describes, generally, the main areas of the ground floor.

A full-sized poster announcing and describing the Master of Arts program in Human Development is available.
